In-house-trainings for your company

Dear management,

More and more companies in Germany are complaining about the level German is spoken and otherwise communicated in. Even students and academics are not capable of writing a company letter to the client.

The EDB wants to change this by offering a new course that will significantly improve the German of your employees.

We are not a school but active entrepreneurs that are worrying about Germany as a location for SMEs. That is why we set up a new course for the best motivated employees in your company offering to you...

...an own dictionary for every employee based on his/her goals

...self-developed teaching materials with teachers who can answer any questions correctly

...a constant control and correction of grammatical and semantical mistakes

Contact us under holgervolke@volke-beratung.de or call +4915204707888. We love to help you and to inform you about our top-notch courses that make a difference.

Kind regards,

drs. H.Volke
